Private Lessons

Students are strongly encouraged to take private lessons, especially if they are playing a new instrument! This helps the student progress faster on their instrument and increases the enjoyment of performing in band. Private lessons allow students to learn instrument-specific techniques from a specialist, and give students more musical opportunities (like honor bands, recitals, etc.) Private lessons are essential to the music program's continued success. Students who take private lessons will receive extra credit each quarter. More information is available from the director.

Music and Equipment Responsibility

- Each member of the band will receive a music folder and will be responsible for keeping all music in good condition and in an orderly manner.
- A minimum charge of $20.00 will be assessed for a lost folder, $7 for a lost school book.
- Every instrument case must be marked with your name and kept in the proper storage area. Students are expected to treat their instrument with care and respect and are never allowed to touch or play another student's instrument, even if the student believes he/she was given permission.
- PERCUSSIONISTS: All percussionists will be required to keep the percussion section in proper order and are responsible for returning all equipment to its storage area immediately following rehearsal.
- PERCUSSIONISTS: All percussionists will be required to attend a percussion methods class with Mr. Nasatir. This will be held after school on September 2nd, a Friday, from 2:35-4:35pm. Those who do not attend may not be allowed to play until they complete the session.
- Students or family members should not attempt to fix broken instruments on their own. Instructors will be available to help diagnose problems and recommend repair services as needed.

Extra Rehearsals (Outside of Class Time)

On occasion, extra rehearsals may be scheduled to prepare for festivals or other performances. These rehearsals will be required and students are expected to attend. Dates and times for these will be announced well in advance. (Students who are unable to attend will need a written parental excuse, and will be responsible for any missed elements of rehearsal.)

Web Site

All music related information, including this handbook, can be found at the Hopkins Music Department web site: www.musicathopkins.com. This includes all music handouts, an updated concert/performance schedule, private teacher information, class grades, and much more. Make sure you visit this often so that you have up to date information.

Auditions

There will be 2 opportunities to audition for chair placement during the year.

1. The first round of auditions will be held during September. Audition material will be provided by Mr. Conway. It will generally consist of chromatic scale (lowest to highest note, up and down), some major scales, and a selection of music. Scales must be memorized for auditions.
2. The second round of auditions will be held in early January. Audition material will be provided two weeks prior to the auditions.
3. There will not be any challenges for chair placement after the auditions.
4. Students may be required to come in at lunch or after school to complete an audition.

Sectional Rehearsals

Throughout the year, different sections of the band will be asked to report before school (7:15-8:05am) or after school (2:35-3:20pm) in order to improve the overall performance of the particular group. Students will work with Mr. Conway in a smaller setting to accomplish tasks in which students need extra help. Sectionals may also be scheduled during lunch time.

Full Orchestra

Some students may be asked to participate in the Full Orchestra with the string players. This will require attendance at some Friday afternoon rehearsals at 2:35 p.m. (approximately twice per month) and possible at lunch time rehearsals. Instrumentation in the Full Orchestra is limited. More information will follow during September.

Instrument Purchases and Rentals

During the year, students and parents may decide to purchase new instruments or upgrade their instruments. Because there are so many different qualities available, it is extremely important to discuss any instrument purchases with Mr. Conway before making them. Sometimes, music stores may try to sell instruments that are of extremely poor quality and cannot be repaired if they need adjustment. Also, some instruments are built using better materials and construction techniques. Please do not purchase instruments without consulting Mr. Conway first!

Jazz Ensemble & Jazz Workshop

Jazz Ensemble is an auditioned class that meets before school on Monday - Friday at 7:15 a.m. Students must plan on arriving by 7:10 to set up. During the month of September, all students are welcome to try out for Jazz Ensemble. Instrumentation includes the following: Alto Saxophone, Tenor Saxophone, Baritone Saxophone, Trombone, Trumpet, Piano, Electric or Upright Bass, and Drum Set. This class has a very limited instrumentation, so some may not be accepted depending on the number of students trying out.

Jazz Workshop is also an auditioned class for 2016-2017. It meets after school on Monday and Thursday (and some Tuesdays) from 2:35 – 3:15 p.m., and additional rehearsals may be schedule prior to performances. Audition material will be available for interested students in late September/early October. Instrumentation includes the following: Alto Saxophone, Tenor Saxophone, Baritone Saxophone, Trombone, Trumpet, Piano, Electric or Upright Bass, and Drum Set. Other instruments may be accepted with director approval. There may be additional rehearsals added as needed prior to performances. Some instruments may not need to audition for entrance into Jazz Workshop.

Both Jazz Ensemble and Jazz Workshop are year-long classes and require a commitment from students. Students will not be allowed to join or drop these classes mid-year.

CMEA Solo and Ensemble Festival

This year's CMEA Solo/Ensemble Festival will be held at Cal State East Bay in Hayward on Saturday, March 11, 2017. Students will have the opportunity to perform solo pieces or small ensemble pieces (duet, trios, quartet, quintet, etc.) and receive a rating based on how well they perform. It is a fantastic opportunity to showcase their talents! Forms are available now. Students who sign up will be required to select their music before the end of October and will not be able to cancel their performance! This is considered "extra credit" work as well, or can meet the "Solo/Ensemble Assignment" requirement for Symphonic Band. Check out www.musicathopkins.com for more info. Please ask Mr. Conway for forms ASAP!!

Why Take Music?

There are many, many reasons for taking music classes at school. Here is a partial list of some of the more compelling reasons.

1. The U.S. Department of Education lists the arts as subjects that college-bound middle and junior high school students should take, stating “Many colleges view participation in the arts and music as a valuable experience that broadens students’ understanding and appreciation of the world around them. It is also well known and widely recognized that the arts contribute significantly to children’s intellectual development.”
2. The College Board (administrator of the SAT exam) identifies the arts (including music) as one of the 6 basic academic subject areas students should study in order to succeed in college.
3. According to The College Board in 2006, students with coursework/experience in music performance and music appreciation scored higher on the SAT: students in music performance scored 57 points higher on the verbal and 43 points higher on the math than did students with no music participation.
4. A separate study concluded in 2000 of more than 10 million high school students found that:
 - Students who take arts classes (including music) have higher math, verbal, and composite SAT scores than students who do not take arts classes.
 - As the number of arts classes increases, so do SAT scores.
 - 4 or more years of arts classes correspond to the strongest relationship with higher SAT scores.
 - Music history, theory, and appreciation have the strongest relationship with higher math SAT scores.
5. Students in “top quality” instrumental music programs at school score on average 22% better in English and 20% better in Math on standardized tests (such as STAR) than students not enrolled in music classes? This statistic is true for both low-performing schools and very high-performing schools (according to a study conducted by the University of Kansas in 2007.)
6. Physician and biologist Lewis Thomas studied the undergraduate majors of medical school applicants. He found that 66% of music majors who applied to medical school were admitted, the highest percentage of any group. 44% of biochemistry majors were admitted.
7. In an analysis of U.S. Department of Education data on more than 25,000 secondary school students in 1999, researchers found that students who report consistent high levels of involvement in instrumental music (band and orchestra) over the middle school years show “significantly higher levels of mathematics proficiency by grade 12.” Differences in those who are involved with instrumental music vs. those who are not is more significant over time.
8. According to Grant Venerable, author of “The Paradox of the Silicon Savior”, the “very best engineers and technical designers in the Silicon Valley are, nearly without exception, practicing musicians.”
9. In an 11-year study (1987-1998) on the effects of involvement in youth organizations (arts, athletics, or community-based), compared to the National Educational Longitudinal Sample (a general sampling of students), students involved in arts based groups (including music) were:
 - Over 4 times more likely to participate in community service.
 - 8 times more likely to win a community service award.
 - Nearly twice as likely to read for pleasure.
 - Over 3 times more likely to be elected to a class office in schedule.
 - 3 times more likely to win a school attendance award.
 - 4 times more likely to participate in a math or science fair.
 - Over 4 times more likely to win an award for an essay or poem.
 - 2 times more likely to win an academic achievement award.
 - 4 times more likely to win schoolwide attention for academic achievement.

WHAT DO UNIVERSITIES SAY ABOUT MUSIC?

1. The College Board, the administrator of the SAT Test, identifies the arts (including music) as one of the 6 areas that students should study in order to succeed in college.
2. University admissions officers clearly state that students who participate in arts classes continually through high school have an advantage over students who do not when applying for high-end schools.
3. During the admissions process, colleges and universities look for students who “stand out” and who have something to offer to the campus. Music students who have played for at least 3 years in high school ensembles are automatically placed in this category (assuming they have met all other university entrance requirements).
4. Continuous enrollment in music is valued by colleges and universities much more highly than extra years of foreign language classes. Students having to choose between music and extra language classes at the Junior High level should ALWAYS choose music according to admissions officers of several universities. Language requirements can be met in high school along with music classes.
5. Playing an instrument well can help a student get into a university if they are willing to play in the university’s ensembles. Students do not have to be a music major to take advantage of this. All universities have to have enough musicians on each instrument to feature high-level performing groups. University band and orchestra directors will find a way for a talented student/musician to get into a school.
6. Having music on a student’s transcript all through high school shows that a student has developed skills in group work, multi-tasking, spatial reasoning, mathematics, leadership, community spirit, and many other areas. These types of skills cannot be found all together in any other class.
